Every day in hotel rooms around the world there's a dilemma...how much of this stuff can I fit in my bag home before I cross the 50 pound weight limit? How much of that beautifully produced literature do you think is thrown out before people head home from a show? We've seen the waste and it makes us sad! Leave all the paper behind and focus on why you came to the event in the first place.

Before the event you will receive a link for your mobile browser. In the meantime if you want to explore the tools, please visit www.busyevent.com. We're here to help and look forward to making sure you get the most out of your next live event!
